

Episode 12 Downloadable: 9 STEPS TO PLANNING THE TRANSIT SYSTEM OF THE FUTURE

Why Do We Need to Plan for the Future Transit System?

Commuting patterns and mobility needs are constantly changing and it can be challenging for existing transit providers to meet every need and keep up with the latest trends. The transit industry is undergoing rapid changes that are being driven by three major trends: automation, electrification, and transit technologies. These trends will transform how, when and where people will use public transit in the future.
